

The way we work – our principles and engagement plan

Our guiding principles are:

- Openness – we seek to connect with people in a way that suits them and invite suggestions about how to engage with interested people.
- Respect – we will listen to and consider everyone's opinion and respond promptly to enquiries.
- Transparency – we will provide all relevant background information and explain the rationale behind our decisions.
- Informing – we will keep interested parties up to date with regular newsletters which will include advising how the community's input affected decisions.

We'll confirm our engagement plans as soon as we can but we are interested to hear your thoughts on the process.

We are engaging and consulting the community under both the Resource Management and Town Belt Acts.

So far, we plan to hold at least two more Open Days – likely to be held in March and June 2017.
